

IT'S NOT EASY BEING A JEWISH PARENT

Three Part Series with Congregations Beth Israel,
Gates of Prayer and Shir Chadash
January 22 , 29 and February 5
Sundays, 10:00 am

At Gates of Prayer/Beth Israel

January 22 ~ When your children ask about...

Rabbis Linden, Loewy and Topolosky will offer possible responses to those difficult theological questions your children pose, such as.. Where does God live? What happened to Grandma? Grandpa? The pet which died? Why pray? What does God look like? Did the waters really part? And many others

January 29 ~ Parenting Is Not Always Easy

Jewish tradition knows all about challenging children. It started with Cain and Abel. Sibling rivalry, unmotivated children, lying and rebelliousness are nothing new. Drs. Mark Sands (Child Psychiatrist) and Gayle Baer (Child Psychologist) will analyze comment upon our ancestors as they help today's parents cope with these and other issues.

At Shir Chadash

February 5 ~ Jewish Parenting Workshop

The three rabbis, along with their spouses Liba Kornfeld, Lynn Loewy and Dahlia Topolosky, all of whom are educational professionals, will lead a workshop on dealing with Jewish home issues, developing positive Jewish experiences and self-esteem in children.

For more information, contact the synagogue office